Are you a new planning board or zoning board member who doesn't yet fully understand your responsibilities? Or a more experienced board member who has questions about how your board could function more effectively? If so, then Conducting Effective Land Use Reviews is the workshop for you.

Conducting Effective Land Use Reviews will review your legal responsibilities as a public official in Rhode Island and discuss in detail the legally required procedures and best practices that should be followed in conducting land use reviews. Led by experienced Land Use Attorneys and Planners, the workshop includes exercises and encourages participants to ask questions based on their own experiences. (NOTE: Conducting Effective Land Use Reviews replaces Unit II of our earlier workshop series Making Good Land Use Decisions, which is no longer offered.)

To date, more than 600 municipal staff, council, board and commission members have increased their planning, land use review and decision-making skills by attending the Land-Use Training Collaborative's core workshops for boards and commissions.
